Manilla Rocked by Tremors Today As Police, Moros Fight BATTLE KILLS MANY

Populace Panic - Stricken By Conflicts

MANILLA, P. I., Oct. 13.—Six were known to have been killed and six wounded in eight hours of bloody fighting today as constabulary police assaulted the Moro stronghold of Panamao on the island of Jolo seeking vengeance for their score of comrades killed by the outlaws in ambush.

Many more were feared to have perished as the native troops routed the Moros.

To add to the terror of the residents of the city of Jolo, near the scene of battle, a series of earthquake shocks rocked the town. Both the Christian and Mohammedan populace of Jolo were panic stricken according to advices reaching here.

WOMEN, CHILDREN, TOO

The attack had been long delayed in the hope of removing women and children trapped with the Moros in their stronghold.

Official dispatches from the scene of battle made no mention of their fate and it was believed here that Tarhata Kiriam, Chicago educated Moro princess, had been successful in her effort to remove the noncombatants.

With Colonel L. B. Stevens, veteran American Moro fighter, directly commanding the operation, fifty Filipino constabulary police under Capt. Leon Angeles opened the attack.

MOROS ROUTED

The Moros, who had been surrounded in their wilderness fortress following the treacherous ambush in which 21 constabulary and 30 Moros were killed, were completely routed. They maintained a steady sniping until late in the day however, with telling results.

One rifle and 85 rounds of ammunition taken during the ambush by a Moro were captured, leaving about 20 constabulary guns unaccounted for.

One member of the constabulary was killed in today's bloody conflict and six were wounded. Five Moros were known to have perished and many more were believed dead.

Hope was abandoned for three constabulary men who have been missing since Sunday when they were sent out on patrol duty.

ARMY OF POLITICAL SPEAKERS MARCH TOWARD OHIO TODAY

Colby, Daniels, Harrison, Ely To Speak For Democratic Party.

COLUMBUS, Oct. 13.—The last round, the final inning, the real crux of the battle for pivotal Ohio's 2,400,000 presidential votes, was started today as an army of nationally-known political orators descended upon the state.

Four stump speakers from national Democratic headquarters were scheduled to invade Ohio's borders to combat the effect of the trump-card address which President Hoover will deliver in Cleveland Saturday night.

They were Bainbridge Colby and Josephus Daniels, both members of President Wilson's wartime cabinet; Par Harrison, the sharp-tongued Mississippi senator, and Governor Joseph B. OHIO VOTES NEEDED

Ohio is a pivotal state, without whose vote only one man in recent history—Grover Cleveland—has been elected president, because it is the crossroads of the nation, because it has more independent votes than any other state, and because it has shrewder and more astute politicians.

Cleveland and Cuyahoga-co, with a total of 274,140 votes in 1930, cast them almost as did the state as a whole. The county's vote to elect Governor George White was 55.4 per cent. The state's was 52.8 per cent.

All this was probably taken into consideration by the advisers of President Hoover in deciding on his Saturday night speech in Ohio.

KIDNAP TALE TOLD TODAY

Two Insurance Men, One a Native Ohioan, Relate Plot To Get Money.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—The day of retribution came today for two Brooklyn insurance men for a sudden, fantastic adventure into major crime.

They were to tell a grand jury the weird story already confessed to police of how their desperate need for money caused them to resort to kidnap the 8-year-old son of a wealthy New York stock broker in hopes of obtaining ransom.

But after they abducted the boy, Jackie Russell, son of John Arthur Russell, the amateur child-stealers lost their nerve when sirens of police squads cars hunting the lad screamed past their hideaway apartment.

They turned their victim loose, unharmed, on the night of the kidnapping and he found his way home safely.

Questioned in the police station after their arrest, they were unflinching and seemed stunned. Their families were broken-hearted.

The confessed kidnapers are Allen W. August, 35, formerly of Cleveland, and George T. Clarke, 26, both of Brooklyn and highly esteemed in their neighborhoods.

CO. DEMOCRATS MEET TONIGHT

Dye To Address Men and Women at Meeting at American Hotel at 8:15.

Plans for a county-wide financial campaign to help the national candidacy of Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt and other Democratic candidates will be laid this evening when Democratic men and women gather in county headquarters at the American Hotel.

The meeting will be addressed by T. E. Dye of Urbana, former state Democratic chairman, who is now Ohio director of the financial drive.

The plan is to go directly to the people for money with which to conduct the campaign. Contributions from $1 up are being sought.

Ferd M. Pickens, clerk of courts, has taken over the county end of the drive and has called the meeting for this evening. Democratic men are to report at 7:30 with the women to arrive at 8:15 p. m. Mr. Dye will address them jointly.

CONVICTS CAUGHT

DECATUR, Ga., Oct. 13.—Two convicts who escaped from the Jacksonville, Fla., jail after testifying in the "sweatbox" murder trial of two chingbang guards, were captured near here early today by DeKalb-co police.

The convicts, Cleo Drew and James Warford, were taken into custody in a stolen automobile.

BULLET FATAL TO ARMY MAN'S SON

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—Whether accident or design sent a fatal bullet crashing into the head of William N. Haskell 2d, 28, banker and National Guard officer, remained undetermined by police today.

Haskell, whose father, Maj. Gen. William N. Haskell, is commanding officer of the New York National Guard, was found dead in the family's Park-ave apartment by the butler.

Miss Sadie Cannon of Columbus is the guest of Miss Loretta McGinnis, S. Scoto-st.

Groucho Marx Ties Father Cox, and Edna Hopper Runs Well In Pitt Poll

Roosevelt Leads Hoover Nicely In University Straw Vote With Thomas Scoring More Than Half as Many as Hoover; Cantor Popular.

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 13.—Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt polled a plurality of 44.64 per cent of the total vote as against 31.37 per cent for President Hoover in a University of Pittsburgh presidential straw vote, the Pitt Panther, university publication, announced today.

Tabulation of votes for the five leading candidates was as follows:

Roosevelt, 1,555; Hoover, 912; Thomas, 487; Foster, 96; and Coxey, 24.

GO FAR AFIELD

Some students went far afield in their selections. Thus, Edna Wallace Hopper, sixth choice, polled nine votes, four more than Eddie Cantor, stage and screen comedian. Father James R. Cox, Pittsburgh priest and jobless party nominee, tied with Groucho Marx as last choices. Each polled one vote.

In an editorial analysis of the vote, the Panther said: "To explain the popularity of a Democratic candidate in a notoriously Republican state and city is no sweet job."

The editorial concludes with a satirical note:

"Coxey, you may remember led an army of unemployed to Washington many decades ago, and at present is mayor of a city in Ohio called Marion, Marietta or some such thing. Upshaw and Reynolds we know little about. They represent reform—well, at any rate, something unpleasant."

Reynolds polled 16 votes and Upshaw six.

BLACKMAIL IS DENIED

Chamberlain Remanded To Jail Under $3,000 Bond After Hearing.

Lanson Chamberlain of Ashville, pleaded not guilty Thursday to blackmail of Francis "Cap" Hoover when given a preliminary hearing before J. S. Hoover, Harrison-twp justice of the peace, and was bound over to the grand jury under $3,000 bond.

Chamberlain was lodged in the county jail Wednesday evening by Sheriff Charles Radcliff and Deputy Bryan Custer who went to Hot Springs, Ark., to take him into custody after his arrest there.

The man, who left Ashville several weeks ago, had been all over the southwest.

TWO OTHERS HELD

His son, Howard, and Chester Maupin, both of Ashville, also face the blackmail charge. Hoover claims the trio obtained between $2,500 and $3,000 from him.

The officers report the trip uneventful although Chamberlain told them on the way home that one deputy in Arkansas offered to "get him in the clear" for $200.

Sheriff Radcliff and Deputy Custer, armed with extradition papers from Governor George White, left for Arkansas last Saturday night. They received the necessary warrant for the return of Chamberlain from Governor Harvey Parnell of Arkansas who personally met the officers.

81ST FAIRFIELD FAIR IS STAGED

ELDEN SELECTED TO TAKE COLE'S PLACE

40 et 8 Leader to Be Feature of Fall Legion Conference

COL. COLE SERIOUS

Consensus Favors Proceeding With Plans

Paul H. Betz, commander of Howard Hall post, American Legion, has received a telegram from Department of Ohio headquarters that John A. Elden, national commander of the 40 et 8, will replace Col. Ralph D. Cole of Findlay on the complete program of the fall conference to be held here Saturday night and Sunday.

Elden is one of the best known and most popular veterans to ever hold a Legion office. He was at one time commander of the Department of Ohio and this year was given the honor of heading the 40 et 8. Elden, an attorney, is best known for his fiery addresses and sparkling personality.

TO FEATURE PROGRAM

He was expected to be here for part of the program whether or not he was a principal speaker but the message received by Betz discloses that Elden's talks will be features of the two-day session.

Opinions were divided as to whether or not to postpone the conference because of the serious condition of Col. Cole, who was injured in an automobile accident near Warren early Tuesday. W. B. "Doc" Hyer of Washington C. H. department vice commander, informed Commander Betz Thursday morning that he is in favor of postponing the meeting but practically everyone here is in favor of going on. Col. Cole is not conceded much of a chance to recover since a neck vertebrae has been broken but he may linger for quite a while. Betz was to go to Columbus Thursday afternoon to consult what state officials he can contact there on what to do.

SHOULD GO ON

It would be a shame if all the efforts of the local post in preparing for the conference should go for naught since considerable expense is already involved. If the conference were postponed now it is probable that a number of legionnaires would gather here anyway since the time for the conference to begin is so near.

If Col. Cole should pass away the Sunday service would very appropriately be turned into a memorial service for the popular leader and co-founder of the American Legion.

NEARING DEATH

Reports from Col. Cole's bedside in Warren city hospital were that he is nearing death. Attaches hold no hope for his recovery, but; corps of physicians and specialists today were continuing a desperate fight to save his life.

At first it was believed Col. Cole was only slightly injured but later it was disclosed he had received a fractured vertebrae in the neck. The injury has resulted in almost complete paralysis of his body.

At noon today a hospital bulletin said that Colonel Cole's condition was "unchanged and still critical."

Physicians said that Cole was completely conscious at all times and talked freely with his wife and friends when permitted.

Best Bidder To Get Logan Job

Man, Wife Celebrate 50th Year

Davey's Check for $100 to be Contributed Provided He Gets Job

FUND IS $881.34

O. S. U. Experts to Examine Tree Without Cost

That the repair of the Logan Elm will be under the supervision of the tree surgery company submitting the best bid was learned Thursday when it was announced that a sum of $881.34 has been turned over by J. A. Meckstroth, editor of The Ohio State Journal, and the Ohio State Archaeological and Historical society for use in rehabilitating the monarch.

The money was collected through the efforts of the Journal, The Herald and the Chillicothe Scoto Gazette.

CONTRIBUTE WORK

Three or possibly four faculty members of Ohio State university, namely, two tree surgeons and an architect and possibly a mechanical engineer, plan within the next two weeks, to conduct a survey of the tree to determine just what must be done to repair it. Their work and time is being contributed without charge.

The entire work is to be completed before winter begins.

That the fund was turned over to the Historical society is but $881.34 may cause some question in the minds of readers. The amount, as published, was $981.34. In this sum was included a check for $100 which Former Congressman Martin L. Davey said he would contribute to the fund, providing his surgery company received the contract for repairing the tree. If Mr. Davey's company wins the contract that check will be forthcoming but if it doesn't the $100 will not be.

MAY COST LESS

A number of tree experts believe the tree can be properly repaired for much less than $900, the price announced by Davey.

Hocking-co Coroner Says Man Found Dead in Woods is Suicide

THEORY IS DOUBTED

Huge Sum Is Missing, Relatives Disclose

Although Coroner Miller of Hocking-co, Thursday, pronounced the death of William Thompson, 57, of near Laurelville, a suicide, county officials today were planning to continue an investigation of the case.

Thompson, missing 13 days, was found dead in a brush pile on the side of a hill two miles south of Laurelville Wednesday afternoon by a son. He had died from a revolver wound through his head. The body was badly decomposed.

GONE TWO WEEKS

The man had left his home the morning of Sept. 29 and had not been seen since. His family had searched for him through the entire vicinity but he could not be found.

A NEW ANGLE

H. E. Deffenbaugh, Salt-creek-twp funeral director, said Thursday that if Thompson committed suicide he is the first person he has ever taken care of who took his own life while wearing his hat. Mr. Deffenbaugh declared that he committing suicide, it is strange, that persons, to his knowledge, always remove their hats.

found. Thursday about 11:30 a. m. saw a man lying face down in a wooded section near Laurelville. He went to the place. There he found his father.

A .32 caliber Mauser revolver was found lying at his side with one shot fired from it. The bullet had entered his head just above the right ear and passed out the left side above the ear. It passed through his hat, both entering and leaving the head.

CHILDREN RECOVER

Green Liver Sausage Causes Illness of Orphans Ohio Healthers Say.

XENIA, Oct. 13.—The mysterious illness of 148 children at the Ohio Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' Home probably was caused from eating green liver sausage served at the orphanage Sunday night, state health department investigators reported today.

None of the victims is critically ill and 40 were sufficiently recovered last night to permit their discharge from the orphanage hospital.

"It was a mild case of food poisoning," said Dr. Finley Van Orsdall, chief of the state division of communicable diseases, and Leo Fey, chief chemist, following an investigation conducted at the request of Dr. A. C. Messenger, resident physician.

BLACKMAIL IS DENIED

Chamberlain Remanded To Jail Under $3,000 Bond
After Hearing.

Lanson Chamberlain of Ashville, pleaded not guilty Thursday to blackmail of Francis "Cap" Hoover when given a preliminary hearing before J. S. Hoover, Harrison-twp justice of the peace, and was bound over to the grand jury under $3,000 bond.

Chamberlain was lodged in the county jail Wednesday evening by Sheriff Charles Radcliff and Deputy Bryan Carter who went to Hot Springs, Ark., to take him into custody after his arrest there.

The man, who left Ashville several weeks ago, had been all over the southwest.

TWO OTHERS HELD
His son, Howard, and Chester Maupin, both of Ashville, also face the blackmail charge. Hoover claims the trio obtained between $2,500 and $3,000 from him.

The officers report the trio uneventful although Chamberlain told them on the way home that one deputy in Arkansas offered to "get him in the clear" for $200.

Sheriff Radcliff and Deputy Custer, armed with extradition papers from Governor George White, left for Arkansas last Saturday night. They received the necessary warrant for the return of Chamberlain from Governor Harvey Parnell of Arkansas who personally met the officers.

81ST FAIRFIELD FAIR IS STARTED

The 81st Fairfield-co fair opened at Lancaster Wednesday with an

The funeral service was held at 2 p. m. Thursday in Newport church.

ELDEN SELECTED TO TAKE COLE'S PLACE

40 et 8 Leader to Be Feature of Fall Legion Conference

COL. COLE SERIOUS

Consensus Favors Proceeding With Plans

Paul H. Betz, commander of Howard Hall post, American Legion, has received a telegram from Department of Ohio headquarters that John A. Elden, national commander of the 40 et 8, will replace Col. Ralph D. Cole of Findlay on the complete program of the fall conference to be held here Saturday night and Sunday.

Elden is one of the best known and most popular veterans to ever hold a Legion office. He was at one time commander of the Department of Ohio and this year was given the honor of heading the 40 et 8. Elden, an attorney, is best known for his fiery addresses and sparkling personality.

TO FEATURE PROGRAM

He was expected to be here for part of the program whether or not he was a principal speaker but the message received by Betz dis-closes that Elden's talks will be features of the two-day session.

Opinions were divided as to whether or not to postpone the conference because of the serious condition of Col. Cole, who was injured in an automobile accident near Warren early Tuesday. W. B.
"Doc" Hyer of Washington C. H., department vice commander, informed Commander Betz Thursday morning that he is in favor of postponing the meeting but practically everyone here is in favor of going on. Col. Cole is not conceded much of a chance to recover since a neck vertebrae has been broken but he may linger for quite a while. Betz was to go to Columbus Thursday afternoon to consult what state officials he can contact there on what to do.

SHOULD GO ON
It would be a shame if all the efforts of the local post in preparing for the conference should go for naught since considerable expense is already involved. If the conference were postponed now it is probable that a number of legionnaires would gather here anyway since the time for the conference to begin is so near.

If Col. Cole should pass away
the Sunday service would very appropriately be turned into a memorial service for the popular leader and co-founder of the American Legion.

NEARING DEATH

Reports from Col. Cole's bedside in Warren city hospital were that he is nearing death. Attaches hold no hope for his recovery, but corps of physicians and specialists today were continuing a desperate fight to save his life.

At first it was believed Col.
Cole was only slightly injured but later it was disclosed he had received a fractured vertebrae in the neck. The injury has resulted in almost complete paralysis of his body.

At noon today a hospital bulletin said that Colonel Cole's condition was "unchanged and still critical."
Physicians said that Cole was completely conscious at all times and talked freely with his wife and friends when permitted.

FUND IS $881.34

O. S. U. Experts to Examine Tree Without Cost

That the repair of the Logan
Elm will be under the supervision of the tree surgery company submitting the best bid was learned Thursday when it was announced that a sum of $881.34 has been turned over by J. A. Meckstroth, editor of The Ohio State Journal, to the Ohio State Archaeological and Historical society for use in rehabilitating the monarch.

The money was collected through the efforts of the Journal, The Herald and the Chillicothe Scioto
Gazette.

CONTRIBUTE WORK

Three or possibly four faculty members of Ohio State university, namely, two tree surgeons and an architect and possibly a mechanical engineer, plan within the next two weeks, to conduct a survey of the tree to determine just what must be done to repair it. Their work and time is being contributed without charge.

The entire work is to be completed before winter begins.
That the fund as turned over to the Historical society is but $881.34 may cause some question in the minds of readers. The amount, as published, was $981.34.
In this sum was included a check for $100 which Former Congressman Martin L. Davey said he would contribute to the fund, providing his surgery company received the contract for repairing the tree. If Mr. Davey's company wins the contract that check will be forthcoming but if it doesn't the $100 will not be.

OHIO CRIMINAL KILLED IN DUEL

FORT WAYNE, Ind., Oct. 13.—
An ex-convict identified as Howard W. Kalberer, 26, of 13318 First Avenue, East Cleveland, Ohio, died at Methodist hospital here today from five bullet wounds received in a gunfight with police last night.

Police Lester Belt was in the same hospital in a serious condition from two bullet wounds in the chest inflicted by Kalberer.

The shooting started when Patrolman Edwin McCarthy surprised Kalberer in the act of holding up
Miss Rena Stone, cashier of the Lincoln theatre.

Kalberer recently was released from the federal prison at Atlanta, Ga. He also has lived at Dayton,
Ohio, Atlanta, Ga., Wilmington,
Ohio and Burton, Ohio.

The body was found by Duffy's wife, Mrs. Edith Duffy, who notified police. Mrs. Duffy said she believed her husband fell asleep in his car after putting it in the garage last night.

MAN'S DEATH IS PROBED BY CO. OFFICERS

Hocking-co Coroner Says Man Found Dead in Woods is Suicide

THEORY IS DOUBTED

Huge Sum Is Missing,
Relatives Disclose

Although Coroner Miller of Hocking-co, Thursday, pronounced
the death of William Thompson, 57, of near Laurelville, a suicide, county officials today were planning to continue an investigation of the case.

Thompson, missing 13 days, was found dead in a brush pile on the side of a hill two miles south of Laurelville Wednesday afternoon
by a son. He had died from a revolver wound through his head.
The body was badly decomposed.

The man had left his home on the morning of Sept. 29 and had not been seen since. His family had searched for him through the entire vicinity but he could not be

A NEW ANGLE

H. E. Deffenbaugh, Salt-creek-twp general director, said Thursday that if Thompson committed suicide he is the first person he has ever taken care of who took his own life
while wearing his hat. Mr.
Deffenbaugh declared that in committing suicide, it seems strange, that persons, to his knowledge, always remove their hats.

found. Thursday about noon the son saw buzzards flying over a wooded section and immediately went to the place. There he found his father.

A .32 caliber Mauser revolver was found lying at his side with one shot fired from it. The bullet had entered his head just above the right ear and passed out the left side above the ear. It passed through his hat, both entering and leaving the head.

A sum of $82 was found in his pockets while members of his family reported he carried more than $300. This is one of the angles that is being probed by Sheriff Sol Ellinger and Deputy Sheriff Joe Farbann of Hocking-co who investigated the mystery.

No motive for Thompson's suicide has been advanced.

The body was taken to the De-ffenbaugh funeral home, Saltcreektwp where services were held Thursday afternoon with burial in Zion cemetery.

Green Liver Sausage Causes
Illness of Orphans Ohio
Healthers Say.

XENIA, Oct. 13.—The mysterious illness of 148 children at the Ohio Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' Home probably was caused from eating green liver sausage served at the orphanage Sunday night, state health department investigators reported today.

None of the victims is critically ill and 40 were sufficiently recovered last night to permit their discharge from the orphanage hospital.

"It was a mild case of food poisoning," said Dr. Finley Van Orsdel, chief of the state division of communicable diseases, and Leo Fey, chief chemist, following an investigation conducted at the request of Dr. A. C. Messenger, resident physician.

Reduction In Farm Product Values Cited By Truax, Dem. Candidate

"Agriculture is still being bled white to furnish transfusions for the big bankers, railroads, insurance companies and manufacturing industries," Charles V. Truax, former Director of Agriculture, Democratic candidate for Congressman-at-large said in an interview here.

"Out of a total of $1,054,814,486 loaned by the Reconstruction Corporation to aid business a paltry $1,470,000 goes to Federal Land Banks for new loans on land."

PARADOX CITED
"We have the most fertile land in all the world, best supplied with all the necessities that go to make up a prosperous people, huge food supplies are going to waste or into storage without markets, while hundreds of thousands of people are suffering for the want of food and clothing."

"In the past American industrialists and financiers have sharply criticized the 'five-year Russian plan,' yet today we find the U. S. Government has invested in private business a sum equal to 27 per cent of the amount that Russia has put into her program. The total already invested or authorized for investment amounts to $7,664,515,201," he said.

AGRICULTURE PENALIZED
A review of the decline in agricultural values in Pickaway-co is being. The principal crops reduced annually are:

Corn: 3,732,000 bushels; wheat: 989,000 bushels; oats: 135,000 bushels; rye: 64,000 bushels; potatoes: 50,000 bushels; hay: 31,000 tons. In 1920 the crops had a value of $4,513,000; in 1927, $3,734,000 and now $1,241,000.

Pickaway-co produces annually 25,000 cattle; 58,000 swine, and 10,000 sheep. In 1920 the value was $4,617,000. In 1927 it was $3,289,000; and now is $1,045,000. The failure of government to find the facts, face the facts with respect to agriculture is costing Pickaway-co $4,787,000 annually as compared with 1927, which was

Pickaway-Co Included In 10 In State Which Increases Its Volume.

The report of the Ohio Live Stock Cooperative Association for the month of August showed that local, county and area member units of the organization handled a total of 9,204,996 pounds of live stock during the month. Although the report was incomplete to the extent that six more member units had not yet reported, this volume exceeded that handled cooperatively for six of the nine previous months of August for which the Association has complete reports and exceeded the average by more than 2 million and a quarter pounds, or 16.5 per cent.

For the month 708 cars of stock were marketed including 26,953 hogs, 2,842 cattle, 2,769 calves and 13,174 sheep. The total value of this stock reached approximately $475,000 and was produced by more than 5,000 farmers.

10 ON INCREASE
Ten shipping associations registered from eight to 68 per cent increases over August a year ago. They were Putman-co managed by Harold Boyd; Ottawa Local in Putman-co managed by Lawrence Gesken; Fayette-co managed by W. O. Beatty; Licking-co managed by John Davis; Auglaize-co managed by Leo Stoll; Huron-co managed by Lee Earnhart; Hardin-co managed by Willard Holland; Columbiana-co managed by W. L. Hall; Pickaway-co managed by Harry Briggs; and Ottawa-co managed by Chester Young.

One member unit, the Cleveland Area Live Stock Cooperative Association, first district trucking association to be organized in the Cornbelt and operating for but seven months hauled 353,441 pounds of stock to the Cleveland market by truck during August. Thirteen community units of this area organization operate in Geauga, Wayne, Portage, Stark, Summit, Erie, Ashtabula, Richland, Ashland, Crawford, Holmes and Wood counties.

PAIN DEADENED CHEST COLDS LOOSENED WITHOUT DRUGS

Get quick relief from pneumonia, bronchitis, chest colds, whooping cough, croup, etc. by using the famous LUCKY STRIKE Cigarettes. The nicotine in the smoke loosens the chest, breaks up the phlegm, and drives out the cold. It is a powerful enough to loosen the chest and break up the phlegm. But beware of imitations. DARBY SCHOOL

The first meeting of the P. T. A. will be held Friday evening, Oct. 14. A cordial invitation to be present is extended to all.

The Freshmen were given a reception by the remainder of the student body Sept. 30. They were "treated" to a few initiation stunts followed by a short program and then refreshments. The first-year folks seemed to enjoy themselves as much as the others.

Harriett Davis of the Class of '32 is attending Miami University. Traveling libraries have been obtained, or are being obtained, for the high school, rooms two and three and room two at Era. Nine-tenths of the high school library by that means. New books to the amount of $50.00 have been ordered for the library. This will place our library in excellent shape for the year's work ahead of us.

Our enrollment to date is as follows: high school, seniors, 13; juniors, 19; sophomores, 15; freshmen, 33; total, 80. Room IV, 46 room 11, 39; room 11, 48; room I, 48; Era, room II, 18; room I, 26; total grades, 225. Grand total, 305. Two pupils are not in school at present, and it is reported that they have permanently withdrawn from high school leaving a total of 78 in the high school.

Our percentage of attendance for the first month was 94.8 which was very good considering the fact that several boys were out working during corn cutting. Miss McKinley's room won the attendance flag with a percentage of 99.

Our membership in the Ohio Education Association and the Central Ohio Teachers' Association is 100 per cent. School will be dismissed to permit the teachers to attend the Central Ohio meetings in Columbus, Oct. 28. Meetings are scheduled for Friday night and Saturday morning of the same week also.

Miss Southward's class in domestic science will begin serving hot lunches in the near future. These will be served at cost and we hope the patronage will be good.

The boys beat the Alumni baseball team Sept. 30 by the score 2-3. Last Friday the boys defeated Monroe boys; and our girls lost to the Monroe girls in games played on our grounds. The teams play at Darbyville this Friday.

MONROE-TWP SCHOOL NEWS

Several social affairs are being arranged for the next few weeks, the first one being the Parent-Teachers meeting which will be held Thursday night, Oct. 13th.

Attendance the past week has been good, with few absences other than those attending the Pumpkin Show.

The percent of attendance in each room, for the entire month was as follows:

- First grade 96.85 per cent.
- Second and third grades 96.38 per cent.
- Fourth grade 94 per cent.
- Fifth and sixth grades 98 per cent.
- Seventh and eighth 99.1 per cent.
- Freshman and sophomore 95.62 per cent.
- Junior and Seniors 97.41 per cent.

As Halloween day approaches the boys and girls of the lower grades are busy making posters and projects in keeping with the month. The first grade has been making Halloween scene in the sand and drawing witches, pumpkins and black cats free hand. The fourth grade is working on a project "Pedro Finds the Halloween Witch."

Members of the Sixth grade hygiene class are making posters depicting both good and ill health, while the girls of the home economics class are illustrating on posters, ways of keeping in good health through balance diet.

Friday evening the junior high school boys and girls met and defeated the Darbyville teams on Monroe's ball field. The score for the girls game was 36 to 16. For the boys 12 to 7. The high school boys were defeated by Darby's team on their home field by a score of 9 to 2, while the girls gained a lead of 8 to 10 over the opponents. Three games out of four, speaks well for our teams and we think they are to be congratulated.

This Woman Lost 45 Pounds

"Dear Sirs: For I have been using your LUCKY STRIKE Cigarettes, I have lost 45 lbs., 6 inches in high bust measure. I've taken 8 bottles, one lasting 5 weeks, and often tried to reduce, but have never could keep it down. I'm cutting down and taking LUCKY STRIKE. I've had splendid results. I highly recommend it to my friends."

Mrs. Carl Wilson, Mendon, Mass.

To lose fat LUCKY STRIKE is HARMLESSLY take a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast—don't miss a morning. To hasten results go light on fatty meats, potatoes, cream and pastries—a bottle that lasts 4 weeks costs but a trifle—but don't take chances—be sure it's LUCKY STRIKE—your health comes first—get it at any drugstore in America. If not joyfully satisfied after the first bottle—money back—LUCKY STRIKE.

Mrs. Newbywed says

"I'm for the I.G.A. Stores a million. Who wouldn't be, who had LUCKY STRIKE bought in one?"

"How well I can remember when mother used to send me for groceries when I was a child!"

"What a difference!"

"The old dingy store—the smell of dried fish (or was it kerosene—I can't ever tell which), the dark, unsanitary corners behind the old style counters."

"And you got what he chose to give you—at his prices."

"All changed now!"

"I.G.A. Stores are all spick and span—handle nothing but groceries you know—everything plainly priced—chance to browse around and make your selection."

"I'm sold. So will you be."

"Just give this newest idea in modern food selling a chance!"

"Nature in the Raw" is seldom MILD

THE INDIAN RAID

"Nature in the Raw"—as portrayed by the celebrated artist, Fred Madan... inspired by that wild, bloody scramble of covered wagons in the Colorado Gold Rush (1858), as described in the National Geographic Magazine. "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—and raw tobaccos have no place in cigarettes.

No raw tobaccos in Luckies —that's why they're so mild

WE buy the finest, the very finest tobaccos in all the world—but that does not explain why folks everywhere regard Lucky Strike as the mildest cigarette. The fact is, we never overlook the truth that "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—so these fine tobaccos, after proper aging and mellowing, are then given the benefit of that Lucky Strike purifying process, described by the words—"It's toasted". That's why folks in every city, town and hamlet say that Luckies are such mild cigarettes.

"It's toasted"

Tigers Crippled For Bexley Contest Friday

Truax Will Get Chance In Line

Freddie Smith Suffering Fractured Left Arm and Bud Miller has Water on His Elbow; Hegele and Mader Scheduled for End Duties

With an X-ray examination disclosing that Freddie Smith is suffering a fractured left arm just below the elbow, and a physician warning Bud Miller not to play football because of water on the elbow, the Tigers will enter the Bexley game Friday afternoon none too strong.

Miller has been a main stay at tackle this year and, although Smith had not yet played—just returning from prep school—he was counted on heavily in Coach Herberholz' plans.

JUDGE FUCHS OUT

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—The Boston Braves, like the Brooklyn Dodgers, of the National League, will have a new president.

This was assured today when it became known that Emil E. Fuchs, New York lawyer and president of the Braves, had sold out his interest in the club and was retiring from baseball.

Fuchs' directing head of the Braves for the past ten years, has sold out to one of his partners, Charles Adams, who will probably succeed to the presidency.

The deal included 7,000 shares of Boston national league club stock, and the price paid is said to have been $189,000. The transaction was completed through John A. Heydler, president of the National league, it was said.

The sale does not include Braves field, where the Boston Nationals play their home games. This park is owned by the estate of the late James E. Gaffney, and is leased to the Boston club for a term of years.

Miller's absence means that Lloyd Truax will get a chance to show just what he can do. This boy has done well in practice but has not shown the fire and zip of Miller. Truax has the size and knows the fundamentals now if someone can get him mad enough to fight he may fill the bill.

USE SAME BACKS

The Red and Black will enter the Friday game with the same backfield in evidence that performed a week ago. White, Gaines Hill, Speakman and Cook. No fault can be found with the performance of this quartet but Smith's presence would have added an additional ball totting threat.

J. Stark, Salsich, Engle and Henceroth, three halfbacks and an end, are Bexley's best athletes and will hear watching at all times.

Art Jones and Vic Kolb will handle the whistles, the game starting at 3.

The probable lineups: Hegele LE Tudor Truax LT Christian Jones LG Glick Wallace OC Miller Rooney RG Newberger Robinson RT M. Stark White RE Henceroth Cook LH Beggs Speakman RH Evans G. Hill FB J. Stark

WEINER WEAKNESS COSTLY

CLEVELAND—Because of his love for weiners, Robert McGaither, 27, was caught by police and charged with burglary and larceny. When he and a companion robbed a meat market, McGaither remained behind an instant to eat a few of the cold dogs and he was picked up by a patrolman.

In Giants-Cardinals Trade

This is the season for trade winds in the baseball world and above are a few players that have already been traded and are on their way to the new team. They are the men involved in the big deal between the New York Giants and the St. Louis Cardinals, four New York Giants having been traded in exchange for two Red Birds. The Giants are Bill Walker (top left), catcher, and Ethan Allen (lower right), outfielder. In center is Gus Mancuso, catcher of the Cards, who, with pitcher Ray Starr, makes the St. Louis end of the swap. There was no cash involved.

WAGNER SEEKING MANAGERIAL JOB

CINCINNATI, Oct. 13.—Bow-legged Hans Wagner, the great shortstop of other days, is trying to return to the game as manager of the Cincinnati Reds.

President Sidney Weil had Wagner's application under consideration today after the former star of the Pittsburgh Pirates came here by automobile yesterday to seek the place.

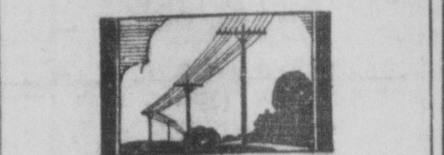

A star in every department of the game, and one of its most colorful figures, Wagner hung up his spiked shoes in 1917 after 21 years in the major leagues.

Dan Howley, who has managed the Reds for three years, is expected to be associated with the Toronto team in the International League next year. Many stars besides Wagner are being considered for the position.

SASSE TO QUIT

WEST POINT, N. Y., Oct. 13.—Lieutenant Garrison D. Davidson, who went to West Point from a New York high school, will succeed Major Ralph Sasse as Army's football coach in 1933. Announcement of Davidson's appointment followed expression of a desire by Sasse that he be returned to duty with troops. Sasse will be assigned to a new post early next year.

Davidson is only 28 years old and the youngest West Point coach in history. He has been an assistant coach and scout at the point, where at one time he played end. Sasse has had a fairly successful three years at West Point, losing in 1930 only to Notre Dame. Last year Army was defeated by Harvard and Pittsburgh and is unbeaten so far this season.

Your Telephone Can Help You Make Money

A great merchant once explained the secret of making money by saying "Buy at the lowest price—and sell at the highest price." Sounds easy, doesn't it—but it isn't. Especially if you have to traipse about to find out what prices actually are.

Here's where the telephone can help you—whether you buy or sell. Prices move up and down pretty fast these days but your telephone works faster—to your advantage.

To get the "best deal"—use your telephone. If you haven't a telephone, by all means have one installed at once. You will find it profitable.

About This And That

BY THE SECOND GUESSER

OUT of a backfield of three sophomores which started against Wilmington college three weeks ago, Howard White, local youth, is the only one chosen to start against Wittenberg Saturday at Delaware for Ohio Wesleyan. Doc Wertz and John Turley were the other sophs with Bobby Given, a senior, the fourth man in the backfield. Coach George Gauthier stated this week that White will be at one halfback, Chuck Vandervort at quarterback, Worcester and Moore in the other positions. Wittenberg's team is feared by the Bishops. Wright, former Hillsboro halfback, is a member of the Lutheran team and at present is high scorer in Ohio.

Pickaway Country Club's officials golf season will come to a close next Sunday when Charles T. Gilmore and Mack Mader meet in a 36-hole match for the club championship. Both have fought their way to the finals in impressive style and the result of the playoff is a toss-up.

A committee at present is working on the schedule for Pickaway-co's centralized school basketball season. A complete schedule will be announced as soon as the committee reports. New Holland won the gonfalon last year and with several veterans back should again go places.

In a letter to his parents this week, Foster Bales, halfback on the Princeton university football team, expressed hope of defeating Cornell Saturday in one of the big games of the season. Princeton, rejuvenated under the regime of Fritz Crisler, former Minnesota mentor, is no longer a door-mat.

A few of the most interesting football games for Saturday should be:

Michigan at Ohio State
Pittsburgh at Army
Ohio University at Navy
Illinois at Northwestern
Wisconsin at Purdue
Notre Dame against Drake
Then in Ohio colleges:
Wittenberg at O. Wesleyan
Miami at Denison
Capital at Kenyon
And in high schools, Friday:
Bexley at Circleville;
Marysville at Delaware;
Grandview at Westerville;
Col. Academy at Ashville;
Col. Central at North;
Col. West at South;
Col. East at Ironton;
Chillicothe at Portsmouth.

Ubl Is Victor

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Oct. 13.—My Ubl, Minnesota halfback, has definitely won his prolonged battle for life, physicians at University hospital said today. Victim of pneumonia and lung abscess as a result of a scrimmage injury, Ubl will be sufficiently recovered to be removed from an oxygen tent in a few days, the doctors reported. At one point of his illness he was not conceded a chance to live.

GIVES FARM TO VETS

ARLINGTON, Texas. Dozens of destitute war veterans are finding a haven of relief on a forty-five-acre farm near here, dedicated in trust to the veterans for the duration of present economic conditions. Fall crops have been planted by veterans on the farm, and a veteran's newspaper of state-wide circulation will be started soon.

EXPERIMENT KILL TWO

NEW ORLEANS, La.—Experiments with a gallon of grain alcohol snuffed out the lives of Frank Spiro, 21, and Anthony Caciccia, 18. The alcohol exploded and burned the two youths to death when it became ignited by a candle.

SENDS DIME TO JOHN D.

MARTIN'S FERRY, O.—Samuel Khoury, clerk in a dry goods store here, sent John D. Rockefeller, Sr., a dime and good wishes on the Rockefeller birthday. A brand new 1932 dime and thanks for Khoury's thoughtfulness came back from the Rockefeller dime dispensary.

What an old maid knows about children may not carry much weight but no one will deny that at least some of them know a pretty child when they see one and I am just expressing my personal opinion when I say that the prettiest babies in the State of Ohio are grown in Pickaway-co.

If you don't believe me see them for yourself at the Cliftona theater this evening when the first appearance of the film depicting the annual Pumpkin Show's baby parade will be shown. The great parade of the parade is shown marching east on W. Main-st and Jane Littleton heading the Junior band is sure strutting her stuff before the camera. Mothers, all unconscious that they were being photographed were proudly marching with their little ones but the high-spot of the film is that part taken after the judging has been done and the ribbons pinned on.

There is no doubt but that some of these infants will at some future time feel perfectly at home before the camera although it cannot be said that any one of them was really "camera shy."

You may think you saw the baby parade from the side lines and feel that you had a good view of all the participants but you certainly have not seen it all until you see the picture. There they are shown as only the camera can show them, pretty little tots in all classes. The prize winners with their ribbons have close-ups and we only wonder if the judges who had the difficult job were camera shy.

Having had its Tragic Era and Mauve Decade the country must now be in its Strange Interlude before the Roaring Forties.

Reduction In Farm Product Values Cited By Truax, Dem. Candidate

"Agriculture is still being held white to furnish transfusions for the big bankers, railroads, insurance companies and manufacturing industries," Charles V. Truax, former Director of Agriculture and Democratic candidate for Congressman-at-large said in an interview here.

"Out of a total of $1,054,814,486 loaned by the Reconstruction Corporation to aid business a paltry $1,270,000 goes to Federal Land Banks for new loans on land."

PARADOX CITED
"We have the most fertile land in all the world, best supplied with all the necessities that go to make up a prosperous people, huge food supplies are going to waste or into storage without markets, while hundreds of thousands of people are suffering for the want of food and clothing."

"In the past American industrialists and financiers have sharply criticized the 'five-year Russian plan,' yet today we find the U. S. Government has invested in private business a sum equal to 27 per cent of the amount that Russia has put into her program. The total already invested or authorized for investment amounts to $7,664,515,201," he said.

AGRICULTURE PENALIZED
A review of the decline in agricultural values in Pickaway-co. is being made. The principal crops being annually are:

Corn: 3,732,000 bushels; wheat: 989,000 bushels; oats: 135,000 bushels; rye: 64,000 bushels; potatoes: 50,000 bushels; hay: 31,000 tons. In 1920 the crops had a value of $4,513,000; in 1927, $3,734,000 and now $1,241,000. Pickaway-co. produces annually 25,000 cattle; 58,000 swine, and 10,000 sheep. In 1920 the value was $4,617,000. In 1927 it was $3,288,000; and now is $1,045,000. The failure of government to find the facts, face the facts with respect to agriculture is costing Pickaway-co. $4,737,000 annually as compared with 1927, which was

CO-OP LIVESTOCK IS UP 16 PER CENT

Pickaway-Co Included In 10 In State Which Increases Its Volume.

The report of the Ohio Live Stock Cooperative Association for the month of August showed that local, county and area member units of the organization handled a total of 9,204,996 pounds of live stock during the month. Although the report was incomplete to the extent that six more member units had not yet reported, this volume exceeded that handled cooperatively for six of the nine previous months of August for which the Association has complete reports and exceeded the average by more than a million and a quarter pounds, or 16.5 per cent.

For the month 708 cars of stock were marketed including 26,955 hogs, 2,842 cattle, 2,769 calves and 13,174 sheep. The total value of this stock reached approximately $475,000 and was produced by more than 5,000 farmers.

10 ON INCREASE

Ten shipping associations registered from eight to 68 per cent increases over August a year ago. They were: Putman-co managed by Harold Boyd; Ottawa Local in Putman-co managed by Lawrence Giesken; Fayette-co managed by W. O. Beatty; Licking-co managed by John Davis; Auglaize-co managed by Leo Stoll; Huron-co managed by Lee Earnhart; Hardin-co managed by Willard Holland; Columbiana-co managed by W. L. Hall; Pickaway-co managed by Harry Briggs, and Ottawa-co managed by Chester Young. One member unit, the Cleveland Area Live Stock Cooperative Association, first district trucking association to be organized in the Cornbelt and operating for but seven months, hauled 353,441 pounds of stock to the Cleveland market by truck during August. Thirteen community units of this area organization operate in Geauga, Wayne, Portage, Stark, Summit, Erie, Ashtabula, Richland, Ashland, Crawford, Holmes and Wood counties.

PAIN DEADENED CHEST COLDS LOOSENED WITHOUT DRUGS

Get quick relief from neuralgia pain, sciatica pain, neuritis pain, rheumatic pain, lame back, stiff neck, headache, strains and chest colds by rubbing plenty of Baume Bengue (pronounced Ben-Gay) on the spot. It doesn't blister or stain. Rub it in till it sinks down and soothes the pain or breaks up the chest cold. Take no drugs, for any drug that is powerful enough to "dead" pain or loosen a chest cold may not be good for you.

But beware of imitations. Ask your druggist for Baume Bengue by name (called "Ben-Gay" in English). There are many analgesic baumes, mostly cheap imitations of Ben-Gay made out of synthetic drugs. That is why they are cheap. That is also why they are ineffective. Rub Ben-Gay and you will get real results.

DARBY-SCHOOL

The first meeting of the P. T. A. will be held Friday evening, Oct. 14. A cordial invitation to be present is extended to all.

The Freshmen were given a reception by the remainder of the student body Sept. 30. They were "treated" to a few initiation stunts followed by a short program and then refreshments. The first-year folks seemed to enjoy themselves as much as the others.

Harriett Davis of the Class of '32 is attending Miami University. Traveling libraries have been obtained, or are being obtained, for the high school, rooms two and three and room 10, at Era. Ninety-one volumes have been added to the reading list of the high school library by that means. New books to the amount of $50.00 have been ordered for the library. This will place our library in excellent shape for the year's work ahead of us.

Our enrollment to date is as follows: high school, seniors, 13; juniors, 19; sophomores, 15; freshmen, 33; total, 80; room IV, 46; room III, 39; room II, 48; room I, 26; total grades, 225. Grand total, 305. Two pupils are not in school at present, and it is reported that they have permanently withdrawn from high school leaving a total of 78 in the high school.

Our percentage of attendance for the first month was 94.8, which was very good considering the fact that several boys were out working during corn cutting. Miss McKinley's room won the attendance flag with a percentage of 99.

Our membership in the Ohio Education Association and the Central Ohio Teachers' Association is 100 per cent. School will be dismissed to permit the teachers to attend the Central Ohio meetings in Columbus, Oct. 28. Meetings are scheduled for Friday night and Saturday morning of the same week also.

Miss Southward's class in domestic science will begin serving hot lunches in the near future. These will be served at cost and we hope the patronage will be good. The boys beat the Alumni baseball team Sept. 30 by the score 2-3. Last Friday the boys defeated Monroe boys and our girls lost to the Monroe girls in games played on our grounds. The teams play at Darbyville this Friday.

MONROE-TWP SCHOOL NEWS

Several social affairs are being arranged for the next few weeks, the first one being the Parent-Teachers meeting which will be held Thursday night, Oct. 13th.

Attendance the past week has been good, with few absentees other than those attending the Pumpkin Show.

The percent of attendance in each room, for the entire month was as follows:
First grade 96.85 per cent.
Second and third grades 96.38 per cent.
Fourth grade 94 per cent.
Fifth and sixth grades 98 per cent.
Seventh and eight 99.1 per cent.
Freshman and sophomore 95.62 per cent.
Junior and Seniors 97.41 per cent.

As Halloween day approaches the boys and girls of the lower grades are busy making projects and projects in keeping with the month. The first grade has been making Halloween scene in the sand and drawing witches, pumpkins and black cats free hand. The fourth grade is working on a project "Pedro Finds the Halloween Witch."

Members of the Sixth grade hygiene class are making posters depicting both good and ill health, while the girls of the home economics class are illustrating on posters, ways of keeping in good health through balance diet.

Friday evening the junior high school boys and girls met and defeated the Darbyville teams on Monroe's ball field. The score for the girls game was 36 to 16. For the boys 12 to 7. The high school boys were defeated by Derby's team on their home field by a score of 9 to 2 while the girls gained a lead of 8 to 10 over the opponents. Three games out of four, we think they are to be congratulated.

This Woman Lost 45 Pounds of Fat

"Dear Sirs: For 3 months I've been using your salts and am very much pleased with results. I've lost 45 lbs., 6 inches in hips and bust measure. I've taken 3 bottles—each lasting 5 weeks. I had often tried to reduce by dieting but never could keep it up, but by cutting down and taking Kruschen I've had splendid results. I highly recommend it to my friends." Mrs. Carl Wilson, Mantion, Mich.

To lose fat SAFELY and HARMLESSLY, take a hair tea-spoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast—don't miss a morning. To hasten results go light on fatty meats, potatoes, cream and pastries—a bottle that lasts 4 weeks costs but a trifle—but don't take chances—be sure it's Kruschen—your health comes first—get it at any drugstore in America. If not joyfully satisfied after the first bottle—money back—Ady.

"I'm for the I.G.A. Stores a million. Who wouldn't be, who had ever bought in one?"
"How well I can remember where mother used to send me for groceries when I was a child!"
"What a difference!"
"The old dingy store—the smell of dried fish (or was it kerosene—I could never tell which), the dark, unsanitary corners behind the old style counters. And you got what he chose to give you—at his prices."
"All changed now!"
"I.G.A. Stores are all spick and span—handle nothing but groceries you know—everything plainly priced—chance to browse around and make your selection."
"I'm sold. So will you be."
"Just give this newest idea in modern food selling a chance!"

No raw tobaccos in Luckies —that's why they're so mild

WE buy the finest, the very finest tobaccos in all the world—but that does not explain why folks everywhere regard Lucky Strike as the mildest cigarette. The fact is, we never overlook the truth that "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—so these fine tobaccos, after proper aging and mellowing, are then given the benefit of that Lucky Strike purifying process, described by the words—"It's toasted". That's why folks in every city, town and hamlet say that Luckies are such mild cigarettes.

Criticizing the League

THE League of Nations is under fire as it has not been since the United States senate defeated President Wilson's plans for American membership. Some of its most loyal friends are now critical of its shortcomings and failures. President de Valera, of the Irish Free State, complains of the slow progress of disarmament under league auspices. Foreign Minister Benes, of Czechoslovakia, cites the Manchuria situation in support of his charge that the league "has not mustered up sufficient courage to call certain events and actions by their proper names and to resort to the application of appropriate articles of the covenant." There is even talk of reorganizing the league.

This is plain buck-passing, to use an expressive army term. Collectively the members of the league have appeared to be working for world peace and disarmament, but individually they have been placing obstacles in the way of both. Nations that refuse to be good neighbors expect the league to make their neighbors be good. After all the league is no better than its members.

Too much has been expected of the Geneva institution. It has done much, though its ultimate goal is still beyond its reach, its successes far outnumber its failures. Not even its sternest critic will maintain that the cause of world peace and disarmament has been retarded by the league.

Hoarding, however, hasn't greatly increased the laying up of treasure in Heaven.

Forty Thousand Poets

PRESIDENT Hoover must have been stunned to learn, after calling for a "great poem" to meet the nation's need of the hour, that there are more than 40,000 poets in the United States writing "great poems" every day. Poets are notorious for their lack of humor, anyway.

But he can thank his lucky stars he didn't make that slip 10 years ago, when there were twice that many practicing rimesters. The climax of the poetic renaissance came about a decade ago. Today there are only 36 magazines devoted solely to poetry whereas during the great poetic revival there was one in every city and almost one for every county.

Dark days and happy hours alike inspire the muse. It is comforting to know that so many men and women are singing through the depression, their verses brightening the lives of countless less gifted for singing.

Many poets are necessary to make one great poem. The world will never know of the poetic efforts of most of the 40,000 now versifying, but from the news of such a large number shall surely come a few poems worth treasuring.

Don't scoff at the efforts of the poetaster; Steven Vincent Benet, Robert Frost and Edna St. Vincent Millay were once "little magazine" poets.

"High wages increase output." This especially true, apparently, of the wages of sin.

Ohio Trims Salaries

LEGISLATIVE history was made in Ohio when the state legislature in a five-day special session lopped $1,725,000 from state salaries, $200,000 from county salaries and effected other economies. Compared with the compromising and dilly-dallying of some legislative bodies, this was an amazing achievement.

It is deserving of more than passing mention when the legislative and executive branches of government cooperate in submitting the budget to a violent shrinking process, but it is even more remarkable when the two legislative branches are of opposite political faith from the governor and the executive economy program has been branded as partisan trickery.

What further proof than this do the politicians want that the voters will stand back of them if they slash government costs to the bone? Taxpayers are no longer thinking of anybody but themselves. Jobholders and contractors cut off from the public trough by economy are getting mighty little sympathy from individuals and business impoverished by government waste and high taxes.

The public demand for economy has a punch behind it which it is bad politics to ignore. There is not a political boss in the country who can safely defy this cry for government retrenchment and tax reduction.

Still, the world is making some progress. The League of Nations doesn't believe in using force.

A REAL National Problem

"MURDER of the NIGHT CLUB LADY"

THE NEW THATCHER COLT DETECTIVE MYSTERY

BY ANTHONY ABBOT

COPYRIGHT, 1931, BY COWLEY-FRIEDL INC. DISTRIBUTED BY KING FEATURES SYNDICATE, INC.

CHAPTER FORTY-THREE

SILENCE fell upon the room. The brother of Christine Quires drew a cigar from his pocket and abstractedly lit it. He did not realize how plausible his theory was beginning to appear. To us who had waded through so much mystification in the last twenty-four hours his accusation seemed something more than mere guess-play. In my own mind, as I reviewed our past findings, the links began to appear.

Yet how had Guy Everett managed to kill both Lola and Christine? Granted that he had ample motive, where was his opportunity? True, we did not know his movements between certain highly critical and important hours. But Lola had died, practically before our eyes. Christine's body had been smuggled into the apartment, against our police guard. Where was Everett then? Until these riddles were answered we were no better off than when we started.

"May I see the body of my sister?" asked Edgar Quires, rising as if he understood that his interrogation was ended.

Colt rose with him.

"You will be notified when you may claim her," the chief answered. "You see, the medical examiner has not yet brought in his complete report. But that is only a formality. You will hear from us tomorrow— if you will leave your address."

"I shall be stopping at the McAlpin. Old-fashioned, but we always go there. Good-night, Mr. Colt. I want you to know that I shall not rest until the murderers of my sister go to the electric chair."

"Thank you, Mr. Quires. I would like you to be at the pent-house of Lola Carewe when I call you. You will be notified!"

Thatcher Colt and Edgar Quires shook hands. Then, with his hand laid tenderly on the arm of his wife, the brother of the murdered Christine departed. As the door closed, the Police Commissioner pressed a button.

And thus it was that two plain-clothes men were set on the trail of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Quires, while Colt and Dougherty once more put their heads together for new plans and fresh devices.

Dougherty took the lead in the discussion.

"I do not see," he began, "where your Paris background, what we might call the Basil Bouchier motif, fits in with the newest developments. Vincent Rowland had a good motive for killing these three people. If he has been involved in crooked dealings, his high position, coupled with the known force and resourcefulness of the man, make the theory quite attractive. What a job it would be to try Vincent Rowland for two murders!"

"You would try them only one at a time," Colt corrected the District Attorney with a smile.

"Need we be technical?" chuckled Dougherty, running a thick hand through his mop of red curls. "On the other hand, Guy Everett seems to be an emotionally unstable person who might have done it through some insane motive of revenge. I believe the case has narrowed down to these two."

Two plain-clothes men were set on the trail of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Quires

Colt nodded philosophically.

"Perhaps," he commented, "But there remain certain obstacles to both theories. As a matter of fact, there remain other obstacles to any theory until we break through one physical barrier. Where was Christine Quires between the time she got out of the elevator and the time we found her dead? Until we get over that hurdle, everything else stands still."

"That's a tough one," agreed the District Attorney.

"I have been racking my brains ever since last night, and I confess that for hours on end I couldn't get within an inch of the problem," went on Colt. "But tonight I expect to solve it."

"Tonight?"

"Yes, Dougherty. In a little while, you, Tony and I are going back to that pent-house. And we are not coming out of it until this mystery is solved."

"Great!" approved Dougherty. "But in the meantime there are a few questions—"

The telephone rang. Inspector Flynn was speaking from his office downstairs. A few reports had come in which were of interest in the Carewe-Quires murders. The clerk who had been on duty in the lobby of the apartment house had at last been located. He had been on a beach-house party in Deal, New Jersey, but was now being questioned by the police. He did remember the letter which Lola had found in her box—the letter of warning which had drawn us into the case. When asked how the letter had been delivered to the desk, he replied that he did not know. He had been called to the telephone for a moment. When he returned, the letter was lying on the desk blotter. There was no one in sight. He had not thought this very significant and had merely put the letter back into the box.

Further, Flynn went on to report, the autopsies were completed, and Doctor Multooler had signed documents releasing the remains to the family. Told about Edgar Quires, he promised to arrange with the brother for the claiming of Christine.

From these details, Flynn passed to a recital of the work on various trails. Vincent Rowland had been under complete observation all day. Nothing suspicious had developed. Late in the afternoon he had called at the pent-house and inquired as to the health of Mrs. Carewe. The old man looked haggard and shaken at the events in which he had been entangled. From there he had gone to the Union League Club where he remained up to the last report. Guy Everett had gone to bed and was still in bed, in his room at the Axton Club. He had left word not to be disturbed. Colt thanked and dismissed Inspector Flynn.

"Don't you think we ought to get Rowland and Everett down here and have it out?" again urged Dougherty.

But Colt remained adamant.

"Not here," he insisted. "But I am hoping that I will have a simpler plan. Let's be going."

And thirty minutes later we found ourselves back in the apartment that had been the home of Lola Carewe.

Typhoid Fever Outbreaks Persist for Many Reasons

Despite Progress Made in Control of Disease, Bathing in Prohibited Waters, Eating Contaminated Foods and "Typhoid Carriers," Still Are Sources of Danger

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M.D.
United States Senator from New York.
Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

DURING the last few months an unusual number of cases of typhoid fever have been reported. These outbreaks have been traced to bathing in prohibited waters, to drinking contaminated water, or to the purchase of food from unhygienic quarters along the public highways.

An outbreak of this nature is now unusual, because typhoid fever has been under control for many years, whereas it used to be very common. Prior to 1880 typhoid fever was a greatly dreaded disease that afflicted thousands of people and took a heavy toll of lives every year. In that year the typhoid germ was discovered. The germ is present in contaminated milk, water and food.

With a short time rigid measures were taken to enforce supervision of the water supply of every large city. In addition, the department of health of all communities required that milk be pasteurized, and all dairy products were placed under the supervision of the official authorities. In this way the disease was controlled.

With purification of the water supply and general pasteurization of milk, the number of persons who contracted typhoid fever was greatly reduced. Within the past few years, comparatively few deaths have resulted from typhoid fever. There is one danger, however, which still exists. I refer to the menace of typhoid carriers—persons who carry the germs, while not suffering themselves from typhoid fever. The typhoid carrier is host to the germs of this disease and is capable of infecting others. Such persons are a constant menace, not only to their immediate families, but to the general public.

It is difficult to detect them, but so long as there are typhoid carriers the disease is sure to appear at times. Perhaps the recent increase in the number of cases reported will be traced to typhoid carriers who are handling or selling food.

Taking Precautions

All food handlers in public establishments are required by law to be examined at regular intervals. Typhoid carriers, when they are discovered, are not permitted to handle food. They are placed under careful supervision. It is necessary that they be isolated to do away with the danger of infecting others. Persons who have been at unhygienic camps, or who have traveled abroad where the infection is more prevalent, are another source of danger. Their infection may explain the recent outbreaks. They bring the disease back home and quickly spread it to others.

The danger of typhoid can be avoided by careful supervision of water and milk supplies and by refusing food that is handled under unsanitary conditions. Never drink any water or milk unless you are sure of its purity. When in doubt, it is safer to boil the fluid before using it.

Fairly fortunate configurations rule today, according to Astrology. The stars agree that certain erratic and impulsive conditions may exist during the morning, yet there is to be a favorable contesting force which promises success to many through speculation, shipping, liquids, oils, etc. It may also be profitable for those who are of the inspirational type in their seeking of friends and associates who harmonize with them in disposition and character.

Those desiring employment in the theatrical field, are promised much success at this time, through their own efforts. In the late afternoon, benefic influences prevail that are good for business, health, journeys, new enterprises and general success. Entertainment of recreation in which considerable activity or competition is required, will be much enjoyed.

Success and promotion may be acquired at this time through resourcefulness and enterprise in business. Results will largely be accomplished by quick energetic common-sense methods and hard work. The late evening is a good time to seek favors from those in authority; social affairs may be conducted with pleasant and pleasurable results, it is foretold.

Economic matters are likely to engage the attention of England, while Germany is predicted to be involved in the controversy of political power and control.

A mis-application of financial power of large proportion, affecting workers and small investors, is likely to be under discussion at this time. "MURDER of the NIGHT CLUB LADY"

THE NEW THATCHER COLT DETECTIVE MYSTERY
 BY ANTHONY ABBOT

CHAPTER FORTY-THREE

SILENCE fell upon the room. The brother of Christine Quires drew a cigar from his pocket and abstractedly lit it. He did not realize how plausible his theory was beginning to appear. To us who had waded through so much mystification in the last twenty-four hours his accusation seemed something more than mere guess-play. In my own mind, as I reviewed our past findings, the links began to appear.

Yet how had Guy Everett managed to kill both Lola and Christine? Granted that he had ample motive, where was his opportunity? True, we did not know his movements between certain highly critical and important hours. But Lola had died, practically before our eyes. Christine's body had been smuggled into the apartment, against our police guard. Where was Everett then? Until these riddles were answered we were no better off than when we started.

"May I see the body of my sister?" asked Edgar Quires, rising as if he understood that his interrogation was ended.

Colt rose with him.

"You will be notified when you may claim her," the chief answered. "You see, the medical examiner has not yet brought in his complete report. But that is only a formality. You will hear from us tomorrow—if you will leave your address."

"I shall be stopping at the McAlpin. Old-fashioned, but we always go there. Good-night, Mr. Colt. I want you to know that I shall not rest until the murderers of my sister go to the electric chair."

"Thank you, Mr. Quires. I would like you to be at the post-house of Lola Carraway when I call you. You will be notified."

Thatcher Colt and Edgar Quires shook hands. Then, with his hand laid tenderly on the arm of his wife, the brother of the murdered Christine departed. As the door closed, the Police Commissioner pressed a button.

And thus it was that two plain-clothes men were set on the trail of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Quires.

"I have been raising my doubts ever since last night and I confess that for hours on end I couldn't get within an inch of the problem," went on Colt. "But tonight I expect to solve it."

"Tonight?"

"Yes, Dougherty. In a little while, you, Tony, and I are going back to that post-house. And we must be coming out of it until this mystery is solved."

"Great!" approved Dougherty. "But in the meantime there are a few questions—"

The telephone rang. Inspector Flynn was speaking from his office. A few minutes later, a man in a dark suit and hat, who had been in the apartment at last night's party, was located. He had been on a house party in Deal, New Jersey, but was now being questioned by the police. The man had been in her box—the letter of warning which had drawn us into the case. When asked how the letter had been delivered to the desk, he replied that he did not know. He had been called to the telephone

PERRY-CO FEUD IN COURT TODAY

Man Pleads Self-defense When Arraigned For Pumpkin Show Murder.

NEW EXINGTON, Oct. 13.—A bitter Perry-co feud, which has already split a family and caused a murder, was brought into the courts today when Eliza G. Middaugh, 42, was arraigned on charges of the hammer-slaying of a neighbor, George Guisinger, 56. Declaring he killed in self-defense, as two men were about to leap upon him while he was attending the Somerset "Pumpkin Show" on the night of Oct. 1, Middaugh announced he would plead not guilty, and fight the case to the end.

Alleged threats by Middaugh to "put that fellow (Guisinger) under the sod before the winter's over" were made the basis of the affidavit filed against Middaugh by a nephew of Guisinger.

WORKMEN INJURED
LOS ANGELES, Oct. 13.—Nine men were injured early today in an accident at Grapevine Canyon, 150 miles north of here, on the Los Angeles water aqueduct.

According to reports to H. A. Van Norman, manager of the water department, an inverted siphon section of the aqueduct was being painted. As workmen were changing shifts, one of the squad entering the aqueduct either slipped or his section of the life line broke.

This, the report said, caused the other men to slip and the nine piled up at the bottom of the steep incline inside the huge concrete tube.

BLOODY FINGER MARKS ARE CLUE

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., Oct. 13.—On two sets of bloody fingerprints, Connelville police today based their hope of solving the brutal triple murder of a grandmother, a mother and her daughter in their dilapidated three-room home here yesterday.

This revelation was made today by Police Chief John C. Wall of Connelville simultaneously with the announcement that the nine-year-old son of the dead mother had told of three men visiting his home the night of the slaying.

NEAL TO ADDRESS OHIO FARM BUREAU

Farm Bureau members and other farmers of Pickaway and surrounding counties will hear President E. A. O'Neal of the American Farm Bureau Federation when he speaks in Lancaster, Friday afternoon, Oct. 21, before the meeting of the Fairfield-co Farm Bureau. He will also speak Friday evening at Washington C. H. before the Fayette-co Farm Bureau. These are two of a series of nine meetings at which Mr. O'Neal will talk in Ohio.

He will discuss farm problems, their relation to general economic conditions and their solution.

PROBE TO OPEN

COLUMBUS, Oct. 13.—Governor George White threw open the doors today to an investigation of the state parole system which has come under attack since a paroled convict participated in a wild gun fight and robbery last week in Cleveland.

"I am perfectly willing to permit an inquiry by the Cleveland Association of Criminal Justice into our parole system," the governor said in answer to criticism of the state for liberating Francis E. Mack Bush, who is now held in connection with the robbery.

"The state," he declared, "has nothing to conceal."

WORKMAN KILLED

ZANESVILLE, Oct. 13.—George Kinney, 60, of Zanesville, a road worker on a National highway improvement project, was fatally injured near here today when he was struck by an automobile driven by William Spinks.

Kinney, who was a former resident of Columbus, died from a skull fracture.

CONDUCTOR DIES

DAYTON, Oct. 13.—Henry C. Becker, 61-year-old musician and band conductor, died suddenly here today from a heart attack.

FIND ROMAN RELICS

DIJON, France.—Gallo-Roman remains showing that the Romans had a thermal station and large swimming pool at the source of the River Seine near here, have been discovered by archeologists. Relics of a temple to the goddess Sequana including many statues in bronze of deformed cure-seekers, dating apparently from shortly before the Christian era, have also been found.

Chinese Killer Is Decapitated

HARBIN, Manchuria, Oct. 13.—The head of the Chinese who slew Mrs. C. T. Woodruff, when she defended her three children against his kidnapping attempts, hung from a tree here today.

A gory "object lesson" to other would-be kidnappers and murders, the head dangled over the exact spot where the English woman lost her life in her gallant fight to save her children.

"EMBARRASSED," SAYS SKINNER

Increasing Requests For State Aid Cause Trouble, Educator Says.

COLUMBUS, Oct. 13.—Increasing requests for state aid for schools have "greatly embarrassed" the state department of education, Dr. E. O. Skinner, state director of education, told the Ohio Congress of Parents and Teachers in an address today.

One-half of the state's 2,000 school districts will soon qualify for state aid "at the rate we are moving," Director Skinner said.

"The adoption of a state aid program was a move in the right direction, but should have been extended," he said. "How widely the present day conditions are prevailing is indicated by the fact that the number of districts qualifying has increased in the past year from 676 to over 800."

THIRTY SEEK ESTATE

CLEVELAND.—Thirty men and women have claimed a part of the estate of William Davey, Jr., aged reclusive, whose death earlier this year revealed the fact that instead of being a pauper he was worth $817,000. Records dating back to 1857 are being invoked by some of the claimants.

SPECIALIZATION UNPOPULAR

OXFORD, O.—Specialization by college students is losing favor to more generalized courses, according to President A. H. Upham of Miami University here. He traced the cause to the depression, saying many graduates had found specialization has led them to a blank wall.

CLEVELAND—Industrial Rayon corporation here is refusing all orders for the remainder of the year, according to Hiram S. Rivitz, president. The company has two plants working 24 hours a day with 2,800 persons employed.

NEW PERSONAL FEELING ASKED AT CAPITAL U.

COLUMBUS, Oct. 13.—Personal attention, one of the vital factors in a college education, is to receive a new impetus at Capital University, Columbus, where plans are being made to bring the students and professors into closer social contact.

The plan devised by Dr. Otto Mees, president of the institution, provides for the appointment of faculty members to care for the needs of new students. Each faculty member will be assigned not more than six students in whose personal welfare he is to take a direct interest.

Students will be invited to the homes of the professors so they can serve as guides in personal problems which may arise in the student's mind concerning his studies, his mode of living, or his future welfare.

At regular intervals the Friendly Counselor, as the advisor will be called, will entertain all of his charges at the same time, giving them an opportunity to discuss their daily problems together. These meetings will be of great value to both in getting the viewpoints of each other.

Thus the faculty members will be responsible in some measure for the student's personal life, as well as his educational progress. Selecting the students according to the same type and course will give each group much in common.

to be honored. Since Mr. Tracy is a widower, Mrs. Thacker has been named to attend the functions. Mr. Thacker is an employee of Tracy's office.

The first meeting was held Wednesday evening at Dayton where Mrs. Dolly Gann was the honor guest. The next will be at Springfield Friday with a luncheon at noon. On Oct. 18 a luncheon at the Legion home at Nelsonville is planned with Mrs. Gilbert Bettman to be the speaker. In the evening of Oct. 18, a meeting is being arranged at Athens and on Oct. 24 at Elyria, Mrs. Bettman will again speak. The final meeting will be at Lorain, Oct. 24.

A reception was held after the Dayton meeting at the home of Mrs. Frederick Patterson, "Far Hill" which Mrs. Thacker attended.

IS HOSTESS TO CLUB MEMBERS

Mrs. Charles Forquer was hostess to members of her bridge club, Wednesday evening, at her home near Ashville.

Cards were in progress at three tables at the delightful party and trophies were presented Miss Flo Bell, Mildred Karshner and Mrs. I. W. Kinsey.

Miss Flo Bell and Mrs. Ralph Crist were guests of the club. The hostess served a salad course at the card tables.

Mrs. Oscar Heffner of W. High-st. will entertain the club in two weeks.

OCTOBER AID MEETING HELD WEDNESDAY

The October meeting of the Ladies Aid Society of Trinity Lutheran church was held Wednesday afternoon in the Parish house. Rev. G. L. Troutman presided at the session and led the devotional service.

The Missionary paper, "Growth of the American Lutheran Church in New York City" was read by Mrs. S. H. Gall.

Mrs. Denny Pickens gave an interesting talk on "Joy I Get Out of Church work."

Two Bible readings and an original poem were highly enjoyed when given by Miss Stout of the Ringgold congregation. Miss Stout is both blind and deaf.

A social hour followed the meeting. Refreshments were served by the committee in charge. Mrs. W. E. Crist, Mrs. Charles Landenberg, Mrs. Charles Palm, Mrs. John Staiger, Mrs. Mary Bowers, Mrs. Adam Kuntz, Mrs. Charles Beck, Mrs. William Madden, Mrs. Jacob Hatto, Mrs. Charles Diehlman and Mrs. Denny Pickens.

LUTHERAN YOUNG PEOPLE MEET

The Young People's Society of Christ Lutheran church met at the home of Loring and Weldon Hill of Muhlenberg-twp, Tuesday evening.

The devotional service was in charge of the president, Rev. G. L. Troutman. After the business session a paper was read by Mrs. Harry Kern on the Lutheran Tuberculosis Sanitarium in San Antonio, Texas.

A program in charge of Miss Bertha Krimmel was enjoyed by the members and eight guests, after which a delicious lunch was served by the hosts.

The remainder of the evening was spent in various games and contests.

The next meeting of the society to be held at the home of Ellis List Nov. 1 will be a masquerade party.

PARTY HONORS BIRTHDAY

Honoring Mrs. John Neuding on her birthday anniversary, Miss Maggie Marx assembled a number of friends at her home on Elm-ave, Tuesday evening for a delightful party.

A very enjoyable evening was spent in euchre, in play at four tables. Favors went to Mrs. Ned Buskirk, Rosemary Neuding, Emmitt Crites and Harle Dilsaver.

The serving of refreshments brought the pleasant party to a close.

Guests were Mrs. Neuding, Mr. and Mrs. John Neff, Mr. and Mrs. Emmitt Crites of Stoutsville; Mr. and Mrs. Harle Dilsaver of near Kirk, Mr. and Mrs. Ned Buskirk, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Horsley, Mr. and Mrs. Adolphus Pearce and Bess Simison.

SCHOOL TEACHERS TO MEET OCT. 28

Public school teachers of Ohio are to meet in six large conventions on Friday and Saturday, Oct. 28-29. About nine thousand of the Central Ohio District in which Circleville is located will go to Columbus where two very busy days have been scheduled with interesting programs.

Columbus schools will be in session a part of Friday morning that visiting teachers may observe their work. Four general sessions are to be held which will be addressed by President Glen Frank of the University of Wisconsin, Lowell Thomas, Dr. Bruno Roselli, Mrs. Percy V. Pennybacker, and President George B. Cutten of Colgate University. After a very busy day, the teachers are to have an opportunity of hearing the famous Welsh Imperial Singers on Friday evening. During the convention more than one hundred distinguished specialists will address teachers in departmental sessions. The English group will hear Zona Gale, noted novelist and playwright; the Biology section will hear Dr. Georg Rommert of Munich, Germany; the Modern Language section will be addressed by Herr Robert O. Roeseleer, Senior Demetrio Cabarga, and Madame Suzanne Fauvet; the Geography group will hear Dr. Whitbeck of the University of Wisconsin and Prof. Frank E. Williams of the University of Pennsylvania. These are but a few of the outstanding educators who will address that convention. It is probable that practically all Circleville teachers will attend these sessions.

CHILICOTHE PLANS MARDI GRAS EVENT

Chillicothe is planning another Mardi Gras on October 28, Halloween night, according to advises from that city Thursday. A committee was named at a meeting in the office of Mayor J. R. Gunning.

Initial steps toward clearing the way for celebration will be taken this week with the collection of funds under a committee headed by Charles Z. Alexander.

Included on the committee besides Mayor Gunning and Alexander are O. B. Atwell, O. O. Overly, George Hamm and Louis Laeger.

Last year's Mardi Gras was the best ever held in the Ross-co city and enthusiasm is already mounting for this year's event.

DEMAND PASSPORT

ATHENS, Greece, Oct. 13.—Samuel Insull, indicted former utilities magnate, was formally requested to hand over his passport to American authorities here this afternoon.

The request was made by the American-legation, acting through Consul General Edwin A. Plitt, only a short while after Insull had apparently defeated the sequestration efforts by placing the document in the custody of his lawyer, Christos Ladas.

Eddie Fisher, the director, has several hit turns to his credit as a composer. Several members of the orchestra formerly played with the Ohio Theatre orchestra in Columbus. The full band was on location at Erie Beach, Pa., during the past summer and have broadcast over Columbia chain stations. Curley Willits, drummer, is featured for comedy.

$25,000 SWINDLED FROM AGED BANKER

ELGIN, Ill., Oct. 13.—How an 89-year-old banker was mulcted out of approximately $25,000 was revealed by police today following the arrest of Dan Konne, 36, suspected of being one of three swindlers.

The victim was George M. Peck, well-known financier of Elgin. He accused Konne of having participated in the clever swindle together with two other men, known to Peck only as Lawson and Martin.
